

The single workspace for public administrations, augmented by AI.

A single space to bring your tools together, speed up information sharing and bring out the potential of every agent.

Sovereign hosting

Available in French, English and Arabic.

Six building blocks, augmented by Syrona

Connect your knowledge

Hub, Knowledge, Le mag' and Communities: a single entry point, a unified media library, an internal newspaper and professional communities.

Empower your agents

Syrona answers from your own content, citing sources. On computer, tablet and smartphone, with nothing to install.

Reveal your talents

Skills and Development paths: skills mapping, annual review and training, linked together.

In your country by default, our European cloud as an option

Socrate and Syrona are installed on your servers. As an option, Socrate runs them in its sovereign European cloud: hosted in France by Scaleway, automatic updates and AI cost included.
